IT PAYS TO BUY FOR CASH.

Money is Power! Labor is Power!

You work a week for $10.00.
That ten dollars represents a week of your life work. You are a week older, and as the weeks, months and years go by your strength is gradually exhausted; you have put your strength into dollars.
What have you done with these dollars? Have you spent them as fast as you earned them? If you have, you are poor indeed; but if you have spent only a part of the dollars and kept some of them, you have in these dollars stored up energy and strength to provide for you in your old age.
How much better still is your position if you have put these saved dollars to work for you!
A good way to do this is to deposit them in some good, strong bank.

The Westminster Bank,
Westminster, S. C.,
is a good place to put these dollars.

Senator Isador Raynor Dead.

Washington, Nov. 25.—Senator Isador Raynor, of Maryland, one of the leading Democrats, and a man whose name was offered at the Chicago convention, by Mr. Bryan, as a suitable candidate for President, died early this morning with neuritis. He had been in a comatose condition since last Wednesday.

His illness covered a period of six weeks, and his death was hastened by an attempt to enter active work in the recent campaign.

His death creates a vacancy in the Senate which probably will be filled by a Republican through the appointment by Governor Goldsborough. Senator Raynor was sixty-two years of age and was a member of the judiciary and the foreign relations committees.

Democratic Chances in Balance.

Washington, Nov. 25.—The control of the Senate after March 4th hinges on Senator Raynor's death. His probable Republican successor will hold office until the Maryland Legislature meets in January, 1914. The Democratic strength in the Senate will still be 48 out of a total membership of 96.

10,291,431 BALES TO NOV. 14.

Nearly Million and Half Bales Ginned from November 1 to 14.

Washington, Nov. 21.—Cotton ginning during the 15th period of the season, from November 1 to November 14, was more active this year than it was during the record crop year of 1911 by about 5,000 bales a working day.

The total ginning for the period was 1,422,209 bales, compared with 1,342,331 bales last year. From the beginning of the season to November 14 the quantity ginned was 10,291,431 bales, compared with 11,313,236 bales last year.

The average ginning a working day was 129,291 bales, compared with 122,030 bales during the same period last year.

Last year to November 14 there had been ginned 11,313,236 bales, or 72.7 per cent of the entire crop; in 1908 to that date, 9,595,809 bales, or 73.3 per cent, and in 1906 to that date, 8,562,242 bales, or 65.9 per cent.

An estimate of this year's cotton crop will be issued by the department of agriculture December 12th at 2 p. m.

Included in the ginnings to November 14 are 62,490 round bales, compared with 75,963 bales last year, 93,364 bales in 1910, 123,757 bales in 1909 and 173,908 bales in 1908.

The number of sea island cotton bales included were 42,321, compared with 71,204 bales last year, 68,495 bales in 1909 and 56,701 bales in 1908.

Tampa "Killer" Pays Penalty.

Tampa, Fla., Nov. 22.—Robert Anderson, alias "The Killer," self-confessed negro murderer of three white persons, was hanged here at noon to-day. Thousands witnessed the hanging. Anderson addressed his race from the gallows and held himself up as an example of the law-breaker. He was convicted on November 9th.

Sight of Gallows Fatal.

Tampa, Fla., Nov. 22.—His desire to see the hanging of a negro murderer at the county jail here to-day cost aged Guillermo Gonzales his life. Gonzales, who was about 70 years of age, gained admittance to the jail yard, took a long look at the gallows and fell dead of heart disease. There was considerable excitement over the occurrence, which transpired nearly an hour before the time set for the execution of the murderer.

DOYLE-BREAZEALE WEDDING.

Popular Young Couple Married Last Thursday—Other Local News.

Seneca, Nov. 25.—Special: On account of the absence from town of the two local pastors, there will be no preaching on Thanksgiving, as is the custom here. This fact is greatly deplored by our church people. It has been many years since (if ever) a like circumstance occurred here. Another deplorable feature is that there will be no opportunity to make the offerings for our orphanages.

As Thanksgiving approaches worldly affairs give way to self-examination and the question comes, "For what are we thankful this year?"

Mr. and Mrs. William Nell and daughter will spend the Thanksgiving holidays in Seneca. Their friends will be pleased to see them again.

Miss Verna Striffling left Monday for Anderson, where she will spend this week with her friend, Miss Besse Sharpe, whose wedding occurs on the 28th of December. She will attend the pre-nuptial affairs this week and will act as maid of honor at the wedding. Miss Sharpe will be wedded to J. J. Fertwell, Jr., and the wedding will be a brilliant church affair, and will take place in the First Presbyterian church.

Mrs. G. W. Gignilliat, Misses Lula, Sue and Norma Gignilliat, Messrs. Francis Adams and R. K. Nimmmon, went down to Atlanta for "Peter Pan" last Thursday night.

Miss Mary Julia Reid entertained a few of her friends delightfully last Friday evening. Games and music were enjoyed and late in the evening delicious refreshments were served.

Mrs. J. T. Holleman entertained her Sunday school class at a delightful party last Friday evening. The evening was spent in games, and a geographical contest was enjoyed. Miss Maele Stilton and Wilkes Dendy won the prize. A delightful sweet luncheon was served.

Mrs. L. W. Verner will entertain the members of the Once-a-Week Club this week, in honor of Mrs. Wm. Nell, at an open meeting.

Miss Lalla Ballenger is visiting in Atlanta this week.

Dr. W. R. Doyle is in Hot Springs for a few weeks for his health.

Mrs. Norma Gignilliat entertained on Monday evening in honor of her attractive young visitor, Miss Fannie Chandler.

Miss Margaret Morrison will spend Thanksgiving at her home in Clemson and will be accompanied by Miss Florence Reid.

Mrs. B. O. Hopkins, with B. O. Jr., has returned to her home here, after a visit of some weeks to her home people at Central.

Basley and Seneca basketball teams will play here Tuesday afternoon. Our boys are practicing for the event and will make it a close game, having been defeated last week at Basley by a score of 24 to 14.

Mrs. J. J. Daniell, of Marietta, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Bacon.

On Tuesday night the first open meeting of the Palmetto Literary Society will be held in the high school auditorium. A debate, speeches and music will constitute the interesting program, which will be given in full next week.

Doyle—Breazeale.

On last Thursday, the 21st instant, a beautiful wedding occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Doyle, at Calhoun, when they gave in marriage their daughter, Lella, to Roy Overton Breazeale. The ceremony, after the manner of the simple Presbyterian service, was said at high noon, the bride's pastor, Rev. Mr. Mills, of Clemson College, officiating. The handsome new home was admirably suited for a large affair, and the natural beauty of the interior was greatly enhanced by elaborate decoration. The conservatories of the college were literally robbed of their gorgeous display of ferns, and native bamboo and ivy were used with beautiful effect. Bridal colors were seen throughout the entire suit and myriads of white roses were used in tal' vases, on mantels and intertwined in tracings of green.

In the parlor the bridal party stood on tableau, and promptly at 12 the doors were drawn, showing a picture of rare beauty. The couple stood under an arch and were attended by Oliver Doyle as best man, Mrs. E. C. Doyle, matron; Miss L. D. Ramsay, maid of honor, and Miss Dit Ramsay, bridesmaid. Mrs. Doyle wore her bridal gown, a handsome charmeuse, en train, with black picture hat, carrying an arm bouquet of white chrysanthemums. The maid of honor was beautiful in a white lace costume over green messaline, the bridesmaid wearing a becoming lingerie frock with real lace trimmings, both wearing large black picture hats, green sashes, and carrying white chrysanthemums. The little flower girls, Misses Dorothy Cheek and Janie Lawrence, were veritable fairies in white chiffon frocks over green messaline, with green ribbons, bearing baskets of white roses. It is noted that a bride should be her very prettiest in her wedding dress, and while this may not always be so, in this instance it was undoubtedly true, her friends agreeing that "a fairer bride the sun ne'er shone on." The suit was a champagne melton cloth, with hat, shoes and gloves to match, and she carried bride's roses with shower of valley lilies.

Immediately before the ceremony Mrs. T. V. McCaul sang "O, Promise Me," and during the ceremony Mrs. Rebecca Shiver played softly on the piano "Trommle," and with the impressive ring ceremony the popular young couple were made man and wife.

Immediately after the ceremony an informal reception was held, when the guests offered congratulations and viewed the beautiful display of presents. The elegant apartments were comfortably filled with a large company of friends and relatives, and the effectiveness of the elaborate decorations was enhanced by the use of myriads of star-like candles, which shed their soft light over the previously darkened rooms, when drawn shades had shut out the rude glare of mid-day. An elaborate menu was served, in which the color motif was minutely carried out. Misses Ethel Smith, Maele Stilton, Elizabeth and Joe Lawrence serving. The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle, and since her debut has been most popular in Clemson College society circles. The groom is a popular conductor on the Southern. After a wedding trip the young couple will reside in Atlanta. The best wishes of hosts of friends follow them.

Charleston Convicts Escape.

Charleston, Nov. 25.—Seven negro convicts, known to be armed with three shotguns of the "pump" variety and one pistol, are to-day at large as the result of a jail delivery which occurred yesterday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock at the convict camp on the Blue House road, two miles east of Ladson. The negroes are men who are serving sentences of from four to fifteen years, on charges ranging from housebreaking to murder, and who were considered among the most dangerous prisoners in Charleston county. Every one of the seven had escaped at some time or other since his imprisonment.

Hawk Escapes, but Man Dies.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Nov. 23.—While examining a hammerless revolver with which his wife had tried during the day to shoot a hawk and failed because the weapon would not work, J. E. Love, a prominent planter of Boynton, Ga., was shot through the head at 8 o'clock last night, dying instantly. The pistol, as his wife was handing it to him, fell to the floor and discharged. The bullet entered Love's chin and came out at the top of his skull.

When the Frost is on the Punkin.

(James Whitecomb Riley.)

When the frost is on the punkin
And the fodder's in the shock,
And you hear the kyouck and gobble
Of the struttin' turkey-cock,
And the cacklin' of the guineys,
And the cluckin' of the hens,
And the rooster's hallylooyer as he
tip-toes on the fence;
O, it's then the time a feller is afeelin' at his best,
With the risin' sun to greet him from
a night of peaceful rest,
As he leaves the house, bare-headed,
and goes out to feed the stock,
When the frost is on the punkin
and the fodder's in the shock!

They's something kindo' hearty-like about the atmosphere.
When the heat of summer's over
and the coolin' fall is here;
Of course we miss the flowers
and the blossoms on the trees,
And the hummin' of the hummin'-
birds and buzzin' of the bees;
But the air's so appetizin',
and the landscape through the haze
Of a crisp and sunny mornin' of the airly autumn days
Is a pictur' that no painter has the colorin' to mock—
When the frost is on the punkin
and the fodder's in the shock!

The husky, rusty russel of the tassels
of the corn,
And the raspin' of the tangled leaves,
as golden as the morn';
The stubble in the furries—kindo' lonesome-like, but still A-preachin' sermons to us of the barrens they grewed to fill;
The strawstack in the medder, and
the reaper in the shed;
The hoeses in their stalls below—the clover overhead!
O, it's my heart a-cleekin', like the
tickin' of a clock,
When the frost is on the punkin
and the fodder's in the shock!

Then your apples all is gathered,
and the ones a feller keeps
Is poured around the cellar-floor in red and yellow heaps;
And your elder-makin' is over, and your wimmern-folks is through
With their mince and apple butter,
and their souce and sausage, too!
I don't know how to tell it—but of sich a thing could be
As the angels wantin' boardin',
they'd call around on me—
I'd want to 'commode' 'em—all the whole indurin' flock—
When the frost is on the punkin
and the fodder's in the shock!

GIRL TOYED WITH DYNAMITE.

McManigal Found Child Playing with 80 Sticks of Explosive.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 22.—Ortle E. McManigal's story of finding his little daughter in the kitchen of his Chicago home playing with eighty one-pound sticks of dynamite, which he had left on a radiator to thaw, was told by him at the "dynamite conspiracy" trial to-day. The dynamiter testified that he and James B. McNamara had gone to Chicago to blow up non-union work in February, 1911, but when they reached Chicago from Indianapolis they found the explosive frozen.

At James B.'s suggestion he put the dynamite on a radiator and went to look over the premises job. When he returned he said his little daughter was on the floor with the dynamite and James B., the Los Angeles Times dynamiter, was testing a battery on the doorbell.

"James B. laughed when he saw my little girl toying with the explosive," said McManigal.

"He said, 'Tell papa what that is.' My little girl replied, 'Why, it's dynamite. I know it won't hurt me,' and kept on playing."

"She said she had seen boys in a vacant lot kicking about sticks that looked like dynamite. The way J. B. laughed made me mad and I ordered him out of the house."

McManigal said when he and James B. went to South Chicago they found the glare of nearby furnaces so brilliant they did not do as much damage as they intended, placing only two bombs instead of four.

Witness Intimidated.

Joseph Schwartz, Chicago, was arrested this afternoon charged with attempting to obstruct justice by intimidating Cornelius L. Crowley, of Monaca, Pa., a government witness in the dynamite cases. Crowley said Schwartz, in the presence of a detective, told him not to testify to the truth.

Stealing 1,200 pounds of dynamite, hiding it in a shed at Tiffin, Ohio, and then in suit cases transporting it on passenger trains to Indianapolis was an experience also related by McManigal.

Confident that the agitation over the Los Angeles explosions would "blow over" and that James B. McNamara would be able to do more "jobs," McManigal added, plans were begun in January, 1911, to carry on the dynamite campaign with zest.

"When I reported to J. J. McNamara how easy it had been to steal the dynamite from a stone quarry at Bloomville, Ohio, and store it in my father's shed at Tiffin, he was pleased," said McManigal. "I brought him several suit cases of dynamite as a sample and he locked it up in a vault at the office of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers. J. J. said he would send James B. ver to help me carry it. We brought it in such quantities that J. J. said he could not store it all at the iron workers' office. We had about 1,200 pounds."

RICHARDS CHARGES SPITE.

Will Propose a Two-Cent Rate for Inter-State Travel.

Lynchburg, Va., Nov. 23.—A resolution proposing a two-cent passenger rate, to be operative in South Carolina, will be offered for adoption to the railroad commission of South Carolina by Col. John G. Richards, Jr., at an early date. Col. Richards, who was in attendance upon the Convention of the National Association of Railway Commissioners authorized this statement to-day.

A resolution was offered to-day to the convention by Col. Richards to have the Inter-State Commerce Commission consider the matter of discrimination in regard to mileage-book travel limited in the United States and to have it pass a uniform rule governing the use of mileage by roads in the several States. The debate waxed warm and elicited much favorable comment, but was finally rejected.

In an interview Col. Richards said: "Every effort was made to get relief for the people of South Carolina. Prior to the convention I had written to the president of every road in South Carolina, wherein I requested them to reinstate the Inter-changeable mileage, which was only discontinued after the passage of the recent act of the Legislature regarding pulling of mileage on trains."

"Some of these officials answered, some did not. The result was not satisfactory. As a last resort I endeavored to have our National Association get us relief through the Inter-State Commerce Commission. Having failed in this, I am now in favor of the establishment of a two-cent rate for Inter-State travel, and I will at an early date propose a resolution carrying into effect this plan. I consider the railroads unjust to their South Carolina patrons in the discontinuance of the interchangeable mileage. It is nothing more than spite work."

Don't waste your money buying strengthening plasters. Chamberlain's Liniment is cheaper and better. Dampen a piece of flannel with it and bind it over the affected parts and it will relieve the pain and soreness. For sale by all dealers. adv.
